rooted in people

Denise Weiss is a Senior Career Transition Coach with Ratliff. With over 30 years of experience in Human Resources, and recent success in independent consulting and business ownership, she enjoys supporting all levels of professionals during their career transitions.

Denise most enjoys working directly with candidates, learning about their career goals and talents and providing personalized guidance in navigating career changes with confidence. With a unique blend of business acumen and emotional intelligence, she excels in supporting clients through the job search process.

Denise was a member of the Senior Management Team at Kaufman Container, a packing distributor in Cleveland, where she ended her tenure as Vice President of Human Resources. She also has experience in industries including government, education, specialty chemicals, and manufacturing. Denise has been an independent HR consultant and is the founder of Blue Sky Healing, where she operates her part-time wellness practice.

Denise has a passion for alternative healing therapies and a heart dedicated to helping others; she enjoys spending her free time in nature, practicing qigong, and exploring metaphysics.
